PUBLIC MEETING FOR CUB RUN AND BULL RUN WATERSHED MANAGEMENT PLAN

Tuesday, June 8, 2004 7:00 - 9:00 p.m.

Westfield High School Cafeteria

4700 Stonecroft Blvd. in Chantilly

Who Should Attend?

Everyone who lives in the watersheds and cares about the quality of their environment should attend. The Cub Run and Bull Run watersheds are in western Fairfax County. If you live in the area shown in the map, you are affected by the quality of streams in these watersheds.

Why Should You Participate?

This is your community! Streams in the Cub Run and Bull Run watersheds are deteriorating. Aquatic life is disappearing. Stream banks are eroding. All who live and work here have a stake in protecting the streams in the watershed because improved conditions will:

- ✓ Protect our drinking water supply in the Occoquan Reservoir
- ✓ Help in cleaning up the Potomac River and Chesapeake Bay
- ✓ Reduce flooding
- ✓ Restore biological diversity in the streams
- ✓ Enhance our quality of life

Why a Watershed Plan?

We need to identify and fix water quality and other stream-related problems, at the community level. Fairfax County is working with local residents, businesses, and other agencies to develop a watershed management plan for Cub Run and Bull Run. The plan will set our strategy to solve problems and improve conditions in the watersheds.
